

Good Samaritan Church
Child and Vulnerable Adult Protection Policy Adopted March 2026

Good Samaritan Church desires to be a safe place for all children and adults who attend any church sponsored activity. By fostering awareness of appropriate and inappropriate behaviors in the presence of minors, Good Samaritan Church, as part of the body of Christ, will demonstrate Christian love and respect for one another. To this end, all paid staff and volunteers who work with children or vulnerable adults will undergo an interview, an authorized background check, and required training before being approved.

Each year children and vulnerable adults are victimized by individuals they know and trust. The church is not immune to the potential for such abuse or neglect of children or vulnerable adults, either by its members or by those in leadership positions. Incidents of child and vulnerable adult abuse or neglect cut across every racial, social, economic and religious boundary. This Child/Vulnerable Adult Protection Policy reflects the church's commitment to protect children and vulnerable adults from harm.

Good Samaritan Church will not tolerate child or vulnerable adult abuse or neglect. Your cooperation in this policy not only reflects your concern about children's and vulnerable adult's safety in this society, but also your willingness to take steps toward halting child abuse and its detrimental effects.

For the safety and protection of our children, vulnerable adults, and workers, all volunteers and paid staff of Good Samaritan Church who participate in church-sponsored activities with children or vulnerable adults will be required to comply with this policy and its procedures.

Threatening or inflicting physical injury upon a child or vulnerable adult, other than by accidental means.

Committing any sexual offense against a child or vulnerable adult, or engaging in any sexual contact with a child or vulnerable adult.

Making any kind of sexual advance, or making a request for sexual favors, or engaging in other verbal, visual, or physical conduct of a sexual nature.

The presence or possession of pornographic materials at any church function.

The presence, possession, or being under the influence of any illegal or illicit drugs or alcohol while leading or participating in any function for minors.

Florida Laws Relating to Reporting Child Abuse, Neglect, Abandonment and Abuse, Neglect and Exploitation of Vulnerable Adults: Law Relating to Children:

Chapter 39 of the Florida Statutes (F.S.) mandates that any person who knows, or has reasonable cause to suspect, that a child is abused, neglected, or abandoned by a parent, legal custodian, caregiver, or other person responsible for the child's welfare shall immediately report such knowledge or suspicion to the Florida Abuse Hotline of the Department of Children and Families. Law Relating to Vulnerable Adults:

Chapter 415 of the Florida Statutes (F.S.) governs the Florida Department of Children and Families and how they detect and correct abuse, neglect and exploitation of vulnerable adults who, because of their age or disability, may be unable to adequately provide for their own care or protection.

Background Screening Procedures for Volunteer and Paid Workers:

The following procedures reflect our commitment to provide protective care for all children and caregivers that participate in church-sponsored activities:

All applicants for paid staff and volunteer positions will complete a Good Samaritan Church application/screening form and an authorization form to conduct background checks by name and social security number. All volunteer applicants will be interviewed by the department pastor or director. References will be checked by the pastor or director responsible for the department.

All volunteer workers who apply to work with minors or vulnerable adults must have been participating at Good Samaritan Church for a minimum of six months before they will be permitted to work in any children or vulnerable adults ministry. Older youth volunteers (age 16 and 17) may be approved by the department pastor or director to work in children ministries under the direct supervision of at least two approved adult (caregivers) at all times.

All paid staff and volunteer workers who work with children or vulnerable adults must have successfully passed a background check conducted by Good Samaritan Church through an outside third party. In addition, they must have completed an interview by the Pastor or staff member overseeing the program, and have completed the required training for the position. Only then will the individual be considered a Caregiver.

All background check data will be treated as confidential and will only be accessible by authorized church staff and the session. The staff members will submit any authorization forms to the third party for the check, and review all background check reports upon receipt. If any issues are surfaced, then the staff member will review those with the lead pastor, and in the absence of a lead pastor, with the Session.

In the event a background check discloses a criminal history, the director/pastor of the department and lead pastor, or in the absence of a lead pastor, the session, shall review the data and make a decision as to the suitability of the volunteer to work with children or vulnerable adults. If the record indicates a prior conviction of sexual abuse or other sexual crime, the volunteer will not be permitted to work with our children or vulnerable adults. All felony convictions must be more than five years old for a volunteer to be permitted to work as a caregiver. All convictions of a violent nature must be more than five years old and will be reviewed on a case by case basis by the lead pastor, or in the absence of a lead pastor, the session. All background check reports will be maintained by the ministry staff or church administrator.

GENERAL GUIDELINES:

Caregivers shall not engage in any form of physical abuse, emotional abuse, sexual abuse, or neglect.

A minimum of two adult caregivers must be present at any event or class with vulnerable adults and children, regardless of how few children or vulnerable adults are in attendance. This means that under no circumstances shall a single caregiver be alone with a class or activity. If two caregivers are not available, the pastor or director of that department must be notified immediately and if another caregiver cannot be located, then the class/activity must either be cancelled or brought into a shared space where other caregivers are present.

Middle and high school students may have one-on-one meetings with their leaders or pastors in a place where they can be easily seen by others, and with the knowledge and consent of their parent or guardian. Infants, preschoolers, and elementary age children should not be alone with a caregiver who is not also their parent or guardian at any time or for any reason.

No background checks will be authorized for a youth under the age of 18. Authorized high school students can participate in children's or vulnerable adult's activities as volunteers as long as at least two adult caregivers are present at all times. These authorized youth must have been interviewed, received training, and been approved by a pastor or director of that department. A youth volunteer of high school age cannot count as the second caregiver for the purposes of the two adult rule, but may only serve as additional support.

Two married persons should not be the only caregivers involved with a particular class or activity.

The windows of classroom and play areas shall remain uncovered to allow a clear view of classroom activities. If doors have windows, those windows will also remain uncovered to allow someone on the outside to see inside.

When possible, children or vulnerable adults are to be encouraged to take care of their own bathroom needs. Should assistance be required, another adult should be present and the outer bathroom door must remain ajar while assisting the child or vulnerable adult.

Children shall be released to parents or guardians at the door/entrance. Persons other than the child's parents or guardians must be authorized to pick up the child.

When children are taken off campus, the Caregivers shall take a count of the children upon leaving and upon return, to ensure all are present.

A positive approach to discipline shall be practiced. Clear, consistent, age- appropriate limits will be established to help the children function appropriately. Physical discipline, such as spanking, is never permitted. Using physical restraint is prohibited unless that child is a danger to themselves or to others.

The appropriate ministerial staff person must approve any preschool, children's or vulnerable adult's activities held off site from the church. Parent or guardian permission shall be obtained on proper forms and there shall be a minimum of two adult caregivers present. Background checks for approved caregivers and volunteers are to be renewed every five years.

Mandatory training is required for every caregiver, youth volunteer, and paid staff member who works with children or vulnerable adults – when they start the position, and annually thereafter. These procedures and guidelines will be reviewed annually and revised as needed.

All volunteers and paid staff receiving training under this policy must sign a statement that he or she has read and understands the policy, procedures, and guidelines and has received the required training. These signed statements will be maintained by the administrative staff.

In the case of suspected abuse in a family or by a caregiver approved by the church, the person with knowledge or reasonable suspicion of abuse should call the Florida Child Abuse Hotline immediately. They may also, at their discretion, alert the lead pastor to their suspicion. No volunteer or church staff is obligated to alert the pastors or session if they fear reprisal, bad faith, or conflict of interest.

In the case that the ministry staff or approved caregiver is in receipt of information leading to a reasonable suspicion (not necessarily a credible report) of child abuse or neglect, they are obligated under this policy to report to the Florida Child Abuse Hotline immediately or to help the person with more direct knowledge immediately make a report. They may also, at their discretion, alert the lead pastor.

In the event that immediate reporting procedures have not been followed, it is the responsibility of every church staff member and volunteer to immediately report suspected abuse when they are in receipt of such knowledge. No one is exempt from reporting requirements at any time or for any reason. There is no pastoral confidentiality in the case of child abuse.

Emergency Situations:

Fire Safety- In the event of a fire, caregivers will gather children and vulnerable adults with implements provided and use building exits appropriate depending on where the fire is. Teachers will take children to a safe location and wait with all children until every parent has picked up every child.

A final word about our role:

Then children were being brought to him in order that he might lay his hands on them and pray. The disciples spoke sternly to those who brought them, but Jesus said, "Let the children come to me, and do not stop them, for it is to such as these that the kingdom of heaven belongs." Matthew 19:13-14 NRSVUE

Our role working with the children & their families is such a precious gift. Jesus valued children so we do too. The rules we have in place here are to work towards two goals. Those goals are to keep everyone safe & to enhance our relationship with each other and with God. I invite you to think about these goals as we engage with children and their families. Ask yourself: does this keep children & families safe? Will this enhance my relationship with the children, their family and/or God? Teaching, playing & attending to the needs of our children is our number one goal while they are at church. This might mean keeping your phone away during this time or it might not. It might mean being on the floor with kids or it might not. By keeping the goal of safety & engagement in the forefront of your mind while doing the necessary work of caring for our kids, we believe you will be able to best assess which actions are helpful and which are not. Please choose accordingly.

Thank you for taking the time to train and be a powerful influence in the life of a child. Science tells us that for children, especially ones with trauma, having one constant, stable adult in their life makes a huge difference in the outcome of their life. You could be that adult and that is such a tremendous honor & responsibility. We greatly value you here at Good Samaritan Church as well as the work you do for the kin-dom of God.

Addendum to Good Samaritan's Child and Vulnerable Adult Protection Policy: Concerning the inclusion of those with convictions of a sexual nature, especially involving children.

Good Samaritan Church is committed in our open and affirming and More Light covenants to the practice of universal welcome. We, after the pattern of the life and teaching of Jesus, welcome anyone who approaches the church with a good faith desire for community, service, and spiritual growth. We are equally committed to our church being a safe place, especially for children and vulnerable adults. We recognize the commitment to universal welcome will sometimes bring people into our fellowship who require extra supports and accountability for their protection and the protection of the church community. We walk the middle way which slips neither into exclusion nor naïveté. With these twin commitments to inclusion and safety, we set these guidelines for our accountability and care around those who have been convicted of a sexual crime:

1. These persons are welcome to attend and serve most ministries and events of the church, but should refrain from attending events which are specifically targeted at children, youth, or vulnerable adults
2. When on campus, these persons should be explicitly under the supervision at all times of an officer of the church – Pastor, staff, or Elder. It is the joint and several responsibility of both the person and the officer of the church to see that this policy is attended to at all times. The corporate supervision of the congregation is sufficient to satisfy this policy in the sanctuary/cafe during times of corporate worship and open café hours.
3. These persons should use one of the single stall restrooms alone. It is inappropriate for such persons to ever have someone else in the restroom with them,
4. These persons shall be permanently and unequivocally enjoined from serving in ministries to children, youth, and vulnerable adults at any time or for any reason, but every effort should be made to engage every member of the church in service to God and community which is appropriate to their spiritual gifting and practical experience.
5. Parents of children and youth, and the relevant caregivers of vulnerable adults shall be made aware of these policies and the persons to whom they apply as soon as an interest is expressed in a long-term connection with the church, but not later than their third visit to corporate worship. This policy should be presented together with our child and vulnerable adult protection policies generally. Further, this policy shall be included as an addendum to the child and vulnerable adult protection policy, and published on our website.

The Lead Pastor shall maintain a confidential list of all persons to whom these policies apply, and shall notify the Session of updates. The Session, staff, and any volunteers directing applicable ministries with children or vulnerable adults will have access to this list. Elders who are asked to participate in the supervision duties included in this policy will be provided with the list. This list will not be shared outside the above named at any time or for any reason. Disclosure of a particular person's status may be made circumstantially with the express advance consent of the Lead Pastor.
